Data protection information

- A. Responsible body according to data protection law: NK Medical Services GmbH, Gänsheidestr. 52, 70184 Stuttgart, Germany, represented by Jens Caspar, Managing Director
- B. Description of the process: we, the NK Medical Services GmbH, operate Covid test stations and process (save) the personal data (and partially especially sensitive data) of our clients in connection with the SARS-CoV-2 tests. This data includes the surname and first name, address, date of birth, passport number or identity card number, date and time of test, the name of the centre and name of person carrying out the test, the reason for the test and the result of the test with the respective notification method. Particular categories of personal data according to article 46 No. 14 BDSG are also processed as part of the procedure; this processing and storage is in the interest of the clients (self-interest as legal prerequisites for testing).
- C. By providing their signature, clients consent to a one-time Covid test with an antigen saliva test from Realy Tech, HotGen, JOYSBIO or Anbio (or other similar suppliers) carried out by NK Medical Services GmbH. Furthermore, by providing their signature, clients agree that in the event of a positive result, the responsible health authority will (must) be informed of the positive result of the test by NK Medical Services GmbH along with the name of the person and all data collected in the process; Art. 9 para. 2 g DSGVO in conjunction with article 8 IfSG No. (1) No. 1 and 2; article 9 IfSG).
- D. For reasons of transparency and clarity, this form will be held by the invoicing party until 31st December 2024 for the responsible authorities (including the Kassenärztliche Vereinigung Baden-Württemberg KVBW and the responsible public health department) or kept available for the controlling authorities for the purpose of accounting (article 7 TestV). NK Medical Services GmbH will not carry out further processing of personal data provided on this form. The data is stored separately and securely by the individual test centres and NK Medical Services GmbH; after expiry of the deadline, the data will be deleted, and a record of the deletion made.
- E. The data subject (customer) has the right to rectification, completion, and deletion of the personal data in accordance with the guidelines under Art. 17 DSGVO (depending on the expiry of the legal deadlines).
- F. The client does not have the right to object to the disclosure of his data after a positive test has been carried out (no right of objection), as according to article 8 IfSG the notification of the person by name is a legal requirement (naming to the health authority, see above).
